

KASHINATH Vajpai: A Masters in Environment Sciences (Garhwal University, Srinagar, India) did Post Graduation in Opportunities in Mountain Environment and Economics (University of Torino, Italy), Diploma in Environmental Law (CEL, WWF-India) and trained in Integrated Water Resources Management-IWRM (UN University, Canada), and Environmental Protection and Water Management at IIT Roorkee, India. He had been the fellow in partnership brokering scheme at ODI-UK, focal point to Cusco Framework for Action for Mountain Partnership from India, and trained in water-environment and Trade from IHDP Germany. Holds over 14 years experience in project management and research in environment and water resources development sectors in Indian Himalayan region, with various Governments, UN agencies, Corporations and NGOs. He had been involved in the training need assessment and capacity building of various stakeholders in mountain development, water resources, livelihood, mountain agriculture, rural and urban environmental planning and related aspects. Coordinated a number of research studies in India and Himalayan region on water quality, food governance, gender, water management and development, rural sanitation, community based forestry, traditional water harvesting, agriculture and livelihood, river basin management, climatic adaptation, among others. He is member to a number of national and international organizations and institutions working in environment and water issues, those include; IUCN Commission on Ecosystem Management-CEM, IUCN Commission on Environmental Economics and Social Policy-CEESP, International water history association-IWHA, IWRS India, Mountain Forum Asia and pacific- MF, Focal Point to UN Mountain Partnership initiative, International flood network-IFN, among others. He has over 20 publications on mountain development, water, environment, climate change, sanitation and forestry issues, those were presented and published during various global meetings, held in Australia, China, India, Malaysia, Nepal, Netherlands, Nigeria, Philippines, Peru, Sweden, Thailand and United Kingdom. At present works as Convener and Theme Leader at Climate Himalaya Initiative <http://chimalaya.org> , which focuses on climatic adaptation through-Awareness Generation, Knowledge Networking, Capacity Building and Environmental Governance in Himalayan region. The present focus areas of CHI's work in Himalayan Mountains are in to-Ecosystems, Water, Forest and Livelihood. One can read his blog at <http://vajpai.org>